At about 4 a.m. on 9 June 1953, a train of flatcars and six boxcars loaded with EM wearing red-bordered black epaulets and artillery insignia was observed at Seehausen railroad station, south of Prenzlau, headed toward Prenzlau. The train was also loaded with an undetermined number of trucks and four AA guns with an estimated caliber of 70 to 80 mm.

☐ Comment. The motor vehicle ☐ belong to a medium AA battery stationed at Werneuchen airfield. This battery was probably transferred temporarily to Wustrow for sharp-shooting exercises. The train is fairly definitely identical with the previously reported shipment, ☐ which moved from Werneuchen to Neubukow on 7 June 1953.
